Summary War News

Abandonment by the German eneral staff of plans for the general offensive in France is inferred in Rome from information received there. It is said this decision is indicated by official communications to the Italian cabinet as well as by statements of Germans in official circles and that hope of penetration further into French territory has been put aside.

A despatch from Geneva gives the impression that the Austrians and Germans have decided to concentrate their energies on the eastern campaign. It is said that at a council of war presided over by Field Marshal Von Hin-denburg it was determined to transfer the Austrian heavy artillery now before Verdun to Po-land and to send back to Cracow, western Galicia, the Hungarian cavalry now on the western

The situation in the east is still to be cleared up. Confident assertions from Berlin last week that the Russian advance in the Carpathians region had been halt-ed or offset by the claim of the Petrograd war office that the principal chain of the mountains, nprising a 75 mile section of the front, is now in possession the Russians and that 70,000 Austrians have been captured in the last few weeks. It is said in Petrograd that the movement toward the interior of Hungary would be resumed after the troops have been rested and reinforced. The Austrian war ce, however, maintains that the Austro-German forces are gaining further victories.

Count Alvaro De Romanones, former premier of Spain, has made a public statement to the effect that a "solemn declaration" should be made by Spain to show where her sympathy lies in the war without violating her neutrality. He pointed out that trality. He pointed out that Spain's relations with the triple entente, consisting of Great Britain, France and Russia, had heen more and more friendly dur-

An extraordinary motion for a new trial was made on several grounds, among which was that of newly discovered evidence. That was denied by the trial court on May 6, 1914, and the upreme court of Georgia affirmed the ction. On October 14, 1914, Frank's attorneys made a motion in the trial court to set aside the verdict on the grounds that the trial court had lost jurisdiction over him by reason of mob violence manifested during his trial and by reason of his absence from the court room, along with his counsel, when the jury returned its verdict. That motion was denied and the Georgian gia superior court affirmed that action on Nov. 14, 1914.

To review that action, application was made first to Justice Lamar, then Justice Holmes, and finally the entire supreme court of the United States, or a writ of error. All held that the decision of the Georgia supreme court could not be reviewed because its ac-tion was based o ngruonds of precedure, namely, that the grounds for set-ting aside the verdict should have been dvanced in the motions for ne

'WE SHOULD WORRY' ON CAR THAT HIT 13-YEAR-OLD GIRL

Picture of Auto Smash-up Decorates Machine That Causes Child's Death.

A flamboyant banger, on which is the inscription "We Should Worry" was on the back of the taxicab that struck and fatally injured 13-year-old Dorothy C. Hooey of $19 Madison avenue, yesterday at Capitol avenue and North Main street.

When Policeman Alexander Hatch took Campbell Abrid, driver for James Leon, to police headquarters in the car that hit the girl, superstitious persons who had heard of the accident, regarded the banner in horror.

Abrid was arraigned before the city court this morning and was remanded under bonds of $2,000 for a hearing on the charge of manslaughter next Saturday. He was released on bonds furnished by his employer. Coroner John J. Phelan announced Walter C. Nichols of 594 Newfield today that he would begin his inquest into the death at 9 o'clock tomorrow, asking the police to have all witness present at that time.

Though it is the contention of the driver that the little Hooey girl started to cross the street with two other companions and that they so occupied the street that he would have to either hit two of them or one, and that he had no other choice, it is believed that witnesses will be brought forward who will testify that the car was going at excessive speed and that after hitting the girl the car proceeded a distance of nearly 100 feet before it turned about and came back to the spot where the child lay. Greatly in favor of the driver is the fact that when he saw the girl's helpless condition he put her in the can and sped to St. Vincent's hospital where she died at 11 o'clock last night having received a fracture of the skull and internal injury. Abrid lives at 42
